It is fatal attraction for young and unworldly Maybelline Lee as she delves deeper into a dark social order where love draws boundaries and anarchy parades weak hearts. After encountering the mysterious and charismatic Crist, May discovers a striking and tragic man mourning the demise of his first love. Although their connection was different from the rest, Crist's dark intention causes May to end their ill-fated relationship and find solace in his more distracting rival—the disarming and driven—Mayhem. Soon, May faces the irreversible consequences of turning against Crist and falling for his adversary. Determined to overcome the underground world and its immoral syndicates, May agrees to Mayhem's conditions as her unruly and guiding Angel. Daunted by Mayhem's opulent, hopeless, and bittersweet lifestyle, May discovers the blessings as well as causalities of loving the rebel gang lord. As the moral clock ticks, April and her Black Coffee race against time, misfortune, and fate to overcome an underground society that condemns love and shuns the human condition.

Love the story but...

By surisou

I read this when it was Conversations Between Us on soompi and absolutely loved it. When I found out it was going to be revamped and published I was very excited!! The newer version is definitely an upgrade and it was fun revisiting the moments between April and Black Coffee.

The only thing that I was disappointed in was that there are many grammatical errors in both First Impressions and in Last Conversations. I bought the kindle versions so I don't know if it's the same in the physical book. In some sentences words are either missing, misplaced, or misspelled. I also wish the text was left aligned instead of justified to make it easier to read. The justify alignment puts large spaces in between words if the sentence is short and I find it awkward. After noticing these things in First Impressions I had hoped that Last Conversations would have fewer to no errors. The finalized versions of these texts could have used a few more proof-reads.

I look forward to Solangel's future novels and hope that what I mentioned above is taken care of before publishing!

Black Coffee will be more meaningful once you read this.

Bittersweet. One of my favorites. But I love more the original Conversation Between Us. Nevertheless, "I'm having a heart attack".
